ABOUT STARBOARD MAGAZINE

Established in 2018, Starboard is the leading magazine for transport design and development. Published biannually, it covers new concepts on water, on land and in the air, with a focus on those committed to creating experiential hospitality.

INSIDE STARBOARD

The leading magazine for style in travel – on water, on land or in the air

Starboard was born out of an increasingly close relationship between hospitality and transportation, and the idea that travel experiences extend beyond the realms of a traditional hotel.

More and more, hotel groups are strengthening their brands through investment in non-traditional hospitality models, partnering with private transportation operators or developing their own concepts to replicate the brand experience on water, on land or in the air.

The sectors are converging in other ways too. Specialist hotel designers are being asked to bring their expertise to the world of luxury travel, particularly cruise lines, resulting in stylish vessels that are more in line with boutique hotels than a mode of transport. Luxurious staterooms, world-class spas, and multiple bars and restaurants, many helmed by star chefs, are just some of the facilities on offer.

Starboard examines the design, development and operation of these spaces; tells the stories behind the concepts; details the fit-out across the entire supply chain, from floorcoverings, soft furnishings and furniture to lighting, tableware and barware; and considers ways in which all of the above contribute to the overall guest experience.
